This Policy does not apply to grievances concerning an employee's terms of employment or other aspects of concerns or complaints within the scope of the Staff/Employment Policy.

4. ACTING IN GOOD FAITH

The Group expects all parties to act in good faith and have a reasonable belief that the information and any allegations in it are sustainably true and not acting for personal gain. Any anonymous whistleblower will not be entertained. However, the Group reserves its right to investigate any anonymous disclosure. If allegations are proven to be malicious, parties responsible may be subject to appropriate action, up to and including legal action, where applicable.

5. CONFIDENTIALITY

The identity of the whistleblower should be maintained in confidence to the extent possible given the legitimate needs of law and the investigation. Consent of the whistleblower will be sought should there be a need to disclose identity for investigation purposes.

The Group assures that it will not reveal the identity of the whistleblower to any third party not involved in the investigation or prosecution of the matter. The whistleblower making the allegation will retain anonymity to all other employees and public unless he/she agrees otherwise. Where concerns cannot be resolved without revealing the identity of the person raising the concern (i.e. if the evidence is required in court), a dialogue will be carried out with the person concerned as to whether and how the matter can be proceeded.

The only exception to this assurance relates to an overriding legal obligation to disclose. The Group is obligated to reveal confidential information relating to a whistleblowing report if ordered to do so by a court of law.

The Group's assurance of confidentiality can only be completely effective if the whistleblower likewise maintains confidentiality.

6. PROTECTION

The Group assures the whistleblower who raises issues of concern that he/she will be protected from interference with his/her lawful employment or livelihood, including discrimination, discharge, demotion, suspension, disadvantage, termination, or adverse treatment in relation to his/her employment, career, profession, trade or business or the taking of disciplinary action as a result of his/her reporting, provided the report is made in good faith and without malice. Any party that retaliates, including harassment and victimization, against a whistleblower who has reported allegations in good faith may be subject to appropriate action, up to and including legal action, where applicable. Legal assistance may be provided where necessary and at the sole discretion of the management.

7. REVOCATION OF POLICY

- ii. The whistleblower made his/her disclosure without good faith;
- iii. The disclosure was frivolous or vexatious or made without any supporting evidence; or
